JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL MARKETING COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT

The American Marketing Association is pleased to publish your article, titled, _____

_____, (the "work") in a forthcoming issue of Journal of International Marketing.

- Assignment Terms: By your signature below, you hereby assign to the AMA all your rights, title, and interest including copyright in and to the Work; the right to secure and renew copyrights worldwide, in the name of the AMA, together with the title and theme of the Work; the right to reproduce, distribute, exhibit, and perform the work in all media now known or hereafter developed. and the rights to any translations, changes, and adaptations to the Work and all present and future rights of every kind pertaining to the Work.
- AMA's License to You: By its signature below, the AMA hereby grants to you a nonexclusive, nontransferable license to (1) photocopy the Work for your own use and (2) publish the Work or permit it to be published as a part of any book you may write, or in any anthology of which you are an editor, in which the Work is included or which expands or elaborates on the Work. As a condition of reserving this right, you agree that AMA and its publication will be given first publication credit, and proper copyright notice will be displayed on the work (both on the work as a whole and, where applicable, on the Work) whenever such publication occurs, indicating that it is "Reprinted with permission from the American Marketing Association (periodical, issue, date)."
- Additional Rights or AMA: In addition to and without in any way limiting the rights assigned to the AMA in Paragraph 1, the AMA will have the right (1) of first publication of the Work worldwide as part of the above-named publication; (2) to license abstracts, quotations, extracts, reprints, and/or translations of the work for publication; (3) to license reprints of the Work to third persons for educational photocopying; (4) to license others to create abstracts of the Work; (5) to license secondary publishers to reproduce the Work in print, microfilm, or any computer readable form including digital archives and (6) to any reproduction, display, distribution, publication, and broadcasting and licensing of the work, including without limitation, for document delivery.

- Warranty: You warrant that you are the sole and exclusive owner of the Work and have the right to secure copyright of the manuscript of such Work, that the Work is not subject to any existing copyright, and that you have authority to grant the rights in this Agreement; that its publication will not libel anyone or infringe on or invade the rights of others; and that the Work is original with you in all respects and that no part thereof was taken from or based on any other work such that the Work infringes on the copyright or common law right of any person. You agree to indemnify AMA against any claim or action alleging facts which, if true, constitute a breach of any of the foregoing warranties.

This is the entire agreement between you and the AMA, and it may be modified only in writing. It will bind and benefit our respective successors in interest, including permitted assignees, and the AMA's licensees, provided that you may not assign the Agreement without prior written consent from AMA. It will terminate if we do not publish the Work within two years of the date of your signature(s). Please indicate your acceptance of the terms and conditions stated in this agreement by signing in the space designated below and returning an original copy to the AMA. Please retain the signed attached duplicate of this letter as your copy of our agreement.
